They then went to the general store of A. H. Hershey near by. Hershey and his clerk, Phares Buckwalter, resisted their entrance and the robbers again began shooting. Buckwalter was shot in the back but Hershey escaped injury. By this time the village was aroused. A man whose name could not be learned arrived on the scene armed with an axe. ## WOMAN HORSE THIEF.

Got a Team in Rutland and No Trace Can Be Found of Either.

Rutland, July 2.—One of the smoothest schemes for horse stealing ever used in this section was worked on a local livery man this week by a woman and no trace of the woman or rig can be found although both have been gone several days.

The name of the woman is not known. She came to town Saturday night and hired a room at the house of Mr. Senecal on Willow street. Monday morning she went successively to Barker's, Haasman's and Spooner's livery stables and asked for a rig to go to West Rutland. She was asked to pay in advance and upon refusing was told she could not have the rig. She finally went to John Derwin's stable on Willow street and was given a rig. The woman took the rig about eleven o'clock Monday morning and has not been seen nor heard of since.

Deputy Sheriff Fish, who has been working on the case since Thursday, has found that she drove into Fair Haven between two and three o'clock Monday afternoon. There she disappeared as completely as though the earth had opened and swallowed her with the rig.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Boycott of Rutland Marble Probable.

EMPLOYERS STILL FIRM

One Official Thinks Trouble Was Instigated By Other Companies Out of the State.

Rutland, July 2.—The marble situation in this section is apparently more serious than at first indicated as it is now understood that unless the marble companies come to the terms submitted by the New York officials of the national union a few days ago the entire output of Vermont marble will be boycotted on every union job in the country.

There is little expectation that the employers will comply with the proposition submitted by the unions. One concern stated that the proposition would be treated like any other anonymous communication. The company knows of no dissatisfaction among the marble employees of this section and the employers were always ready and willing to hear complaints and pass upon them. In this official's opinion the move was made at the instigation of the marble companies in other states, whose business was being cut into by the Vermont concern.

In referring to the conditions demanded the marble concerns state that it is impossible for them to raise the pay or shorten the hours of their men and do business with any profit.

STRUCK HIS WIFE.

John Bean of Randolph Convicted in the Justice Court.

John Bean, a veteran of the civil war who was married March 24 to Mrs. S. J. Nichols of Barre, had a hearing Saturday afternoon on the charge of assaulting his wife of three months' standing, and striking her with the handle of a pitchfork.

It seems that Mr. Bean was harnessing the horse when the animal got away from him and ran out of the barn with part of the harness on. Some of the neighbors caught it in the road a short distance away, and Mrs. Bean, who made something of a pet of the horse, went after it to quiet it down and lead it back. Her husband followed quickly and, seizing the runaway, began to kick it in what Mrs. Bean thought a rather savage manner, and she begged him to stop.

He took the horse to the barn and picked up the pitchfork. She, fearing that he intended to stab the beast with it, began to expostulate with him, but instead of using the tines he belabored the animal with the handle until his wife again cried out. Thoroughly angry at her interference, he turned from the horse to give her a blow with the pitchfork handle, which speedily brought matters to a climax.

Complaint was made against him, and at the hearing he was fined $15 and costs, but took an appeal to the county court.

As a sequel to the story, Mrs. Bean has instituted proceedings for a separation.—[Randolph Herald.]

DECLARED OFF.

Rutland Young Woman Wouldn't Be Married by a Justice.

Rutland, July 1.—A certain Rutland young man who contemplated entering the matrimonial state a few days ago now finds he has a superfluous marriage license on his hands and besides he is out of pocket 50 cents. The young man, who is a Protestant, became engaged to a Catholic girl, and the date of the wedding being set, procured his license. The prospective husband, wishing to have the wedding as quiet as possible, suggested that they go to a justice of the peace and have the ceremony performed but the young lady would have no one but a priest marry her. As a result disagreement ensued and the wedding has been declared off.

A SEVERE DRUBBING

Burlington Put It All Over Plattsburg.

FINAL SCORE WAS 20 TO 3

New Yorkers Put Up a Very Weak Exhibition and Were Outclassed.

Burlington, July 2.—It would be useless to attempt to describe in detail just how Burlington "put it all over" Plattsburg yesterday afternoon when they defeated them 20 to 3 at Athletic park, but it is probable that the following assortment of hits by the Burlington "stickers" had much to do with our victory: three home runs, one three bagger, four two baggers, 10 singles.

It was a bad day for Plattsburg. They made their only scores in the sixth, three hits, two errors and a base on balls doing the business for them. Campbell pitched six innings and gave but four hits. Washburn pitched two innings and allowed but one hit, striking out four men. The game was suspended once on account of rain. In Plattsburg's half of the ninth with two men out the rain came down again in torrents and it was thought best to call it off.

A wonderful one-hand catch of a hot liner by "Jack" Campbell, and a pretty play by second baseman Dunn of the Plattsburg team were the best fielding features. Woodward and Peck of the University of Vermont team also played for Burlington, the former at center and the latter at right just to "try them out."

Woodward sent the sphere over the fence in the fourth which meant three runs. Peck made two singles and a double. Lawrence and Hazelton also contributed home runs.

But Plattsburg should not be censured too severely. The little city has never been backward in putting forth a ball team that was first class and she has men and money to do it with but they were unfortunate this year because several of the good players engaged jumped their contracts. Consequently their team now is not first class. They have only two pitchers, Scanlon and McLean, and both are being worked to the limit. Consequently their team was weak. Davis, who pitched part of the game yesterday is not a twirler, his position being in the field, where he is a good man. He is also one of the foot ball heroes of Princeton.

Score by innings:

Batteries, Campbell, Washburn and King for Burlington; McLean, Davis and Brennan for Plattsburgh. Hits, Burlington 18, Plattsburgh 5; errors, Burlington 3, Plattsburgh 5; stolen bases, Burlington 7, Plattsburgh 2; struck out, by Campbell 2, by Washburn 3, by McLean 1, by Davis 0. Base on balls by Campbell 2, by Washburn 0, by McLean 2, by Davis 3. Umpire, Shea.

BASE BALL NOTES.

CONVENTION IS CLOSED

State Epworth Leaguers Go Home.

IN NORTHFIELD IN 1906

Excursion Trip to the Granite Quarries This Morning—Officers Elected.

The state convention of the Vermont Epworth league closed its work last evening and after a trip to the quarries this morning the delegates will leave this afternoon and evening for their homes. The convention has been a great success in every feature, both in respect to work done and also in pleasure. That the management had saved one of its best things for the last came out forcibly at the concluding meeting last evening when the Rev. A. C. Crews, D. D., the general secretary of the Epworth League of Canada and editor of the Canadian Epworth Era was introduced to give an address on "Elements of Success in Epworth League Work."

Despite the severe rain storm the church was well filled with an audience which fully appreciated the earnestness and enthusiasm which predominated the speaker as he delivered his address.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by C. S. Andrews and opened with a devotional and song service led by Richard Moyle, followed by an interesting address by Rev. E. M. Fuller, field secretary of the Vermont S. S. association.

"The League and Temperance" was most strongly expounded by Rev. G. W. Morrow, after which a very pleasing and successful demonstration of Junior work was conducted by Mrs. F. L. Page of Barre, whose class of about fifty young people went through their difficult Bible drill finely and gave some excellent singing.

"How to get the Children into the League" was ably treated by Mrs. J. M. Frost, St. Johnsbury, and Mrs. W. S. Smithers, Waterbury, spoke on "How to Keep the Children in the League."

The business session was next held, when the report of the committee were heard. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, C. S. Andrews, Barre; first vice, Rev. J. M. Frost, St. Johnsbury; second vice, Rev. W. E. Allen, Ludlow; third vice, A. C. S. Beaman, St. Albans; fourth vice, Miss Katherine Haines, St. Johnsbury; secretary, Miss Gladys Sanders, Barre; treasurer, Louis E. Jones, Barre; superintendent of Junior league, Mrs. W. S. Smithers, Waterbury. Northfield was decided upon as the place for the next convention to be held in 1906.

The evening service was opened with a short devotional and song service led by Rev. Mr. Wright, Plainfield and W. H. Goodfellow, followed by the closing address by Rev. Mr. Crews. The speaker said in part: "Someone has said that the combined forces of the United States and Great Britain could whip the world, but another man has said that the United States and England combined could save the world, and today it is a fact that seven eighths of the world's missionaries have been sent out from the English speaking race. The Epworth League organization must be worked with courageous hearts and intelligent minds. We don't want to educate a certain part of the young people but we want to educate the rank and file of them."

"I look upon the Epworth League as a gymnasium for the development of the spiritual life of our young people. What we need is intelligent leaders. I believe that there are many young people in the church, who are willing and even anxious to work if someone would only show them the way."

In speaking of a possible lack of interest in the league meetings he said that new life can be put into a league by inducing a variety in the way of conducting of the meetings. "If we were only as anxious in our work as those men were to reach the farthest point north we would accomplish something. Napoleon said that a good soldier was one who put heart into his powder and I believe that is just the reason that the Japanese are succeeding so marvelously. They are patriotic, they love their emperor and are enthusiastic for their country's welfare. I believe that there is no evil in the country which cannot be removed by perseverance and Christlike work."

"O, young people, are there not drunkards and swearers in your community? There is your chance and your opportunity. I believe that by instilling into the minds of the young people
